INAUGURAL MESSAGE
OF
GOVERNOR W. KERR SCOTT
TO THE
GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF NORTH CAROLINA
JANUARY 6, 1949

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the General Assembly and My Friends from all over North Carolina:

As I assume the duties of Governor today I am deeply conscious of the great responsibilities of the office. My campaigning dealt with definite proposals for the expansion and improvement of the public service. I take office with what I believe to be a clear mandate from the people to carry out the pledges I have given. I am deeply appreciative of the great honor this State has bestowed upon me, but I am even more acutely aware of the work ahead, and I dedicate myself with all the energies of my heart and mind to the discharge of the duties of the governorship.

You ladies and gentlemen of this General Assembly have been elected by the people as their lawmakers. I have been elected their Chief Executive. Together we have a job to do. I cherish the opportunity to work with you.

I want you to know that the resources of the Governor's Office will always be at your disposal.

Our State stands now at a point where it must take counsel of courage rather than fear in plotting its advance.

We know we cannot chart the future with certainty. In business, and in government—which is the biggest business of all—it is necessary to plan two, four and more years ahead. Budgets and all great public service programs must be projected in order that what we do today will dovetail into what we do tomorrow.

Without claiming to be a prophet, I say here and now that I face the future with confidence. We are now in a period of readjustment. I see it as the levelling off process expected since the end of the war—the normal change from a seller's to a buyer's market inevitable as production catches up with shortages. There is evidence that we have passed the peak of high prices, and in the months immediately ahead it would be surprising if the economic adjustment did not exact a toll in business casualty and individual unemployment. We would be foolish not to take this probability into consideration, but I think we would be equally foolish to magnify the consequences of what should prove to be a normal adjustment due after years of almost uninterrupted upward movement.

We have returned the government in Washington to control of the Democratic party, under which we enjoyed our greatest prosperity. President Truman and the Democratic Congress have a mandate from the People to safeguard our economy with proper supports and controls. I cannot see the possibility of depression such as we experienced under the last Republican administration. Our party has created safeguards. Bank depositors are insured against loss. Labor has more than trebled its average wage in this State and workers are insured against total loss of income in case of temporary unemployment. Farmers have support prices to insure them against selling below cost of production. Reserve funds have been accumulated to maintain subsistence payments to large numbers of the aged and needy through the Social Security Program. Out of substantial profits in the last eight years, business, by and large, has been able to set aside reserves against temporary reverses.

I repeat. I face the future with confidence. I face it, too, with the conviction that now is the time to build for a greater future by bringing our public services current with the needs of the times. In doing this we can set the stage for the greatest era of prosperity ever experienced by our people.

During the war and post-war years, when neither labor nor materials were available, I think our State leadership wisely husbanded tax resources. Our State is in sound fiscal position. But we cannot overlook the vital factor: In amassing a hoard of tax dollars we accumulated a vast backlog of urgent public service needs. We must conclude that we do not have a real surplus, but actually a deficit in public services. To go forward, we must wipe out this deficit.

To begin as rapidly as possible to fund this deficit of service to the people, and to do it as rapidly as the resources of the State will permit, I submit now a 15-point program to the members of this General Assembly chosen by the people in our 100 counties to speak and act for them in charting the course of our State for the biennium ahead.

1. Roads. We have made great progress in road building in the last three decades. We now have more than 62,000 miles of roads, nearly 16,000 miles of them hard-surfaced, but a great part of our State still does not have all-weather transportation. In my opinion the most inexcusable waste in our economy is the mud tax. I propose repealing the mud tax just as rapidly as it is possible to build and improve roads that will enable every school bus to operate every day in the year, and provide all-weather access to markets, places of employment, churches and medical care.

The rounding out of our road system with a network of all-weather secondary mileage is essential to the economic as well as the cultural development of North Carolina. We are a State of thickly populated rural areas and small cities. Industry more and more is dependent upon rural and suburban labor. By improving the roads upon which this potential labor supply lives, we increase our attraction for new industry to locate here. In getting the worker to the factory, we have a service of importance almost equal to that of getting the child to school, and getting the farmer's product to market in good condition.

I am, of course, aware of the colossal nature of the task of building in four years a dependable school bus route system and service roads for the industry of farm and factory. It may require both an increase in the gasoline tax and borrowing money for repayment over a long period. I am giving the matter of financing this road-building program the most serious thought and I am seeking advice on it from the most competent sources I know.

The cooperation of all concerned is essential. I realize that I, as your Governor, can go no further toward achieving this objective than the General Assembly and the People are willing to go along with me.

2. Education. The most valuable crop we raise in North Carolina is our children. We have so recognized this in the allocation of tax monies on a steadily increasing scale. From 1900, when the great educational crusade began under Aycock, the State government has increased annual appropriations for public schools from one hundred thousand to over 63 million dollars. In the last five years the amount has been quadrupled. For next year, our educational leaders are asking for 35 million dollars more than the State is spending on its public schools this year, and in addition a program of school building which would cost one hundred and fifty million dollars, spread over a period of years. The question is not whether we need to increase our expenditures for public schools, but how far we can afford to go—or not to go.

I regard a comprehensive educational program, properly implemented with road, health and utilities programs, as the soundest insurance policy the State of North Carolina can underwrite for the protection of its future.

The General Assembly of 1947 provided for a special commission to make a study of the entire public school system. I commend the members of the commission and those who helped make this report possible, and I recommend it to this Legislature as a chart to our educational future.

I urge the General Assembly to take positive action toward improving and enlarging teacher personnel by increasing teacher pay. I favor a minimum salary for A-grade teachers of $2,400 and increments to encourage better qualified teachers to remain in the service. I feel that this is imperative to make the teaching profession attractive to the kind of people needed in it. We may look, as a result of the Democratic victory in the nation, for substantial Federal aid in paying for this—possibly as much as twenty million dollars a year.

I recommend that the Legislature give consideration to the establishment of a system of State aid to counties for the construction of school buildings. Any such program would require reconsideration of the State's present policy and the careful examination of the present division of the cost of public services as between ad valorem and other local taxes and the State's tax levies. We may not know, before the session of the General Assembly adjourns, the extent to which federal aid may be available for this purpose. If it is necessary, I would not hesitate to call a special session to deal with any proposals in connection with federal aid.

I am not convinced that our system of higher education is either the best or the most economical system we can devise. We know there is a tremendous economic loss due to a number of factors such as poor preparation, poor discipline and the unfitness of many young men and women for the sort of college education we offer them. We need only to look at the high fatality rate in the first and second year classes in our state supported colleges to appreciate the fact that something is wrong with the system and that something needs to be done about it. The answer may be that we need to develop a system of junior colleges as a part of the Greater University. I therefore recommend that the General Assembly provide for a careful survey of our system of higher education in order that recommendation may be made to the next General Assembly with respect to the advisability of establishing a system of junior colleges with facilities for affording vocational education.

3. Health. The importance of improving our general health program was brought sharply under the public spotlight by distressing disclosures in the selective Service physical examinations. Two Administrations have grappled with this problem realistically, and the result of studies of two able commissions has been approved by the people's representatives in the last Legislature. We have made progress toward placing this overall plan into effect, and we should continue to implement it as rapidly as our resources will permit. I would guard only against any phase of this health program being over-emphasized at the expense of another. Headway is now being made on the four-year medical school and teaching hospital at the State University.

This is an integral part of the program, but it cannot fulfill its mission without correlated development of rural hospital and clinics. The encouragement of country practice for the doctor and nurse is dependent upon the availability of such modern health service stations. It is my earnest belief that this part should take precedence, if for financial reasons we are unable to carry the entire program forward at this time.

There is, also no question as to the need of a dental school, and the proposal to build one deserves serious consideration.

Our hospitals for the mentally sick must be made adequate physically and staffed with properly trained personnel. At no time, save perhaps overnight, should a jail be the waiting room for patients requiring mental treatment.

In increasing provisions for treatment of the sick, we must not overlook the part of the medical program devoted to the prevention of sickness as carried on by the State Board of Health.

We are lagging in providing facilities for the treatment and prevention of tuberculosis. Farmers long ago stamped out T. B. among cattle. I think it is high time we showed more progress toward eradicating it in the human family.

4. Welfare. We are not current with need in our humanitarian services. The Board of Public Welfare has submitted proposals for increasing aid to the aged and indigent. These proposals affect the physical and moral health of our people. Our old age benefits should be adjusted in line with living costs and our relief standard generally should be brought up at least to the national average. Vigilance against fraud should be increased and local communities should be encouraged to shoulder greater responsibility toward caring for those unable to care for themselves.

Great work is being done for the blind through the State Blind Commission and a special project of one of our largest civic clubs. This public service is to be commended in the highest terms, and might well serve as an example for other organizations of this nature.

I am concerned about the frequency of serious crimes of violence. It disturbs me to hear that a large part of the large flow of convicts into our prison system consists of ex-service men of the late war. If we are to obtain social improvement through our courts of justice, our prisons must be more than merely places for detention. There must be greater emphasis upon returning prisoners to useful places in society, and to this end we should look critically at our system of prison administration and parole and probation.

5. Natural Resources. In our Department of Agriculture, the Experiment and Extension services of our Agricultural colleges, and the Department of Conservation and Development, we have the facilities for promoting the broadening economic base that is vital to our continued progress. We face challenging opportunity to improve land usage. Forestry may be restored as a major industry. Commercial fishing may be expanded, and we have untold mineral wealth awaiting development. Here, especially, I mention our ports and harbors. These are of vital concern to the entire State—not merely to the areas adjacent to them.

6. Public Utilities. A large number of our people are being penalized by not having electric power and telephone service. Our industry has been retarded by inequitable power and transportation rates.

Electric power is the cheapest labor the farmer as well as the manufacturer, can hire. Yet there are still around one hundred thousand farms in North Carolina that do not have electricity, and there are sections in which industry is being throttled because it cannot get electric power on terms that will enable it to compete with similar industries elsewhere. I want to see these service deficits wiped out during my administration.

The telephone ranks at the top of modern conveniences. Yet the surface has barely been scratched in making the instrument available to all the people. This service deficit is not only retarding rural development but constricting our whole economic and social progress by encouraging movement of our people into already congested areas. Telephone service is a natural corollary to all-weather roads and electrification. It is essential to bringing about the better health services, marketing facilities, and broadening the scope of our labor supply which industry must have.

Our utilities are privately owned and they should be permitted a reasonable return upon their investment, but to justify their monopolistic franchises granted them by the people of the State, they must also provide the service to which the people are entitled.

In the field of regulating public utilities we must have fair and aggressive administration of fair laws designed to protect the public interest as well as the interests of investors in public utilities. Our laws regulating utilities are, in some respects, cumbersome, out of date, and inadequate to meet modern conditions. Our State Utilities Commission needs to be reorganized and supplied with the services of experts so that it can act promptly and effectively in the public interest.

I mention specifically here the urgency of eliminating freight rate discriminations against our industry and agriculture.

7. Democratic Representation. I have stressed the importance of broadening our economic base. I lay equal stress upon broader representation on the boards and commissions which serve the public interest. I consider such broadened representation a mandate of last year's election.

You will have before you for your consideration the report of the commission set up by the preceding Legislature to study our present system of State examining boards. I find widespread belief that this business has been carried beyond the bounds of public welfare. We should go slow in creating new boards and scrutinize every such board already in existence where there is the slightest indication that it is serving special privilege and restriction of opportunity.

8. Referendum. The people have the right to express themselves on any important issue affecting their well-being. Our constitution stipulates that: "Elections should be frequent. For redress of grievances and for amending and strengthening the laws, elections should be often held." I urge this Legislature to present the alcoholic beverage question fairly to the people in a State-wide referendum without delay. A gag rule, or any rule, which stifles democratic processes of free and open debate and discussion is contrary to the spirit of our people.

9. Elections. Our elections laws are in some respects archaic. They are generally not conducive to bringing out the participation of the people in government. This is the keystone of democracy. I consider it a disgrace that barely one-third of the people eligible to vote in our State took part in the November election. We have permitted our processes of voting to lag behind the times, and I will advocate modernization of our election machinery to the end that people will be encouraged in exercising their rights of citizenship. It is my opinion that the time has come for us to seriously consider the use of mechanical devices for the deposit and counting of ballots in all our elections.

10. Veterans. The more than 350,000 men and women who were in the Armed Services are now, for the most part, back in civil life. A great number are in positions of leadership in the State and its various localities. These men and women merit every consideration the State can show them in gratitude for their sacrifice, but I am convinced that the majority of veterans do not desire to be set apart as a special class. A great many of them have told me that, and also that the best bonus their State can grant them is better government and improved public services that will bring about better living conditions and open greater avenues of opportunity. That, also, is my belief.

11. Labor. No State has enjoyed better relations between labor and management than ours. We have a definite responsibility for continuing and improving these good relations. I have observed with deep satisfaction the increase in the last ten years of the average weekly wage in industry from $16 to $41. Private business as well as public funds have felt the enriching effect of these enlarged payrolls. We cannot have a well-balanced economy without wide distribution of buying power, and a fair return for labor, whether it be in factory or on the farm, is essential to that condition.

Two years ago the General Assembly enacted the so-called Anti-Closed Shop law. This was done at a time when labor's demands at the national level were influencing law-makers all over the nation to pass restraining legislation. I feel that the passage of time has convinced those willing to look upon both sides of this question that this law was harsh, and I recommend revision of this and other State labor laws to bring them in line with legislation adopted by the national Congress. I specifically recommend wage-hour legislation to remove discrimination as between business engaged in interstate commerce and business engaged solely in business within the State.

I also favor increasing unemployment benefits to a level in keeping with advanced living costs. I am informed that we can do this and at the same time lower the tax levied on business for this purpose.

12. Business and industry. The rapidly advancing industrialization of our State is responsible in large measure for our unprecedented prosperity in recent years. Our goal should be an economy soundly diversified between agriculture and industry. We can increase our attraction to industry by broadening our supply of competent labor through better training in our schools and better accessibility and communications, so that labor can be drawn from extended areas and not be confined to urban limits. Tax structures are important, and we should guard against our taxes on industry getting out of line with those of competing states, but even more important than the tax consideration is the supply of labor and natural resources. We have both awaiting development. This will become increasingly important as the dispersion of industry is accelerated by the Atomic Age.

I am opposed to any legislation unduly favoring or discriminating against any form of legitimate business enterprise.

Business in the last decade has built up a great bulwark against repetition of the panic of the early thirties by its contributions to the Unemployment Compensation Fund. There are now more than 150 million dollars in this fund and about one million workers are covered in North Carolina. Payments from this fund are not large enough to encourage idleness, but they serve to tide workers, and the businesses dependent upon industrial payrolls, over periods of temporary inactivity without danger of economic paralysis. This danger was ever-present before the establishment of the Social Security Plan.

In view of the large reserves accumulated in the unemployment fund, I feel that business should be given all the relief possible in reduction of this assessment, and recommend serious consideration of the proposal to this end made by the Employment Security Advisory Commission. As I have already mentioned, I am informed that this reduction can be made and at the same time unemployment benefits can be increased more in line with present living costs.

13. Personnel. The State cannot render services commensurate with the needs of its people, nor in fair exchange for the tax monies it collects, without able and adequate personnel. This is true in every branch and division of our government. To attract and retain personnel capable of rendering the services to which the taxpayers are entitled, compensation for public service must be reasonably commensurate with salaries and wages prevailing in competitive enterprise, both public and private. Our salary and wage scales do not at this time reflect such a condition. We should now raise these scales with a view to compensating for increased living costs with an equitable retroactive adjustment.

The State has lagged behind industry in personnel management, and should remedy this condition immediately. To this end I recommend removal of the duties of personnel administration from the office of the Assistant Director of the Budget to a new personnel division under direction of a specialist in this field. This office should proceed without delay to survey the whole field of State employment and to make revisions and adjustments that are needed as rapidly as possible. This office, too, must always be open to any State employee for hearing and investigation of any complaint regarding terms or conditions of employment by the State.

14. Local Government. Cities and counties are reporting budgetary difficulties as expenses increase with commensurate increase of their revenues. There is a growing tendency to appeal to the State government for aid. At the same time, criticism arises in some quarters against the concentration of political power at the State capital. During the campaign there was a confusing mingling of the two ideas—that the central state should take on more financial responsibility for local government, and that it should restore to local government some of its powers.

This discussion, spurred on primarily by the municipalities, strongly suggests that the time has come for very careful study of the whole framework of North Carolina's government. The record of the concentration of power and financial responsibility at Raleigh shows little evidence in support of the theory that the State government sought to take on new power for the sake of exercise of the power itself. Usually, fiscal circumstances led to willing surrender of authority to the State by local governments as they struggled with problems such as roads and schools.

In the course of this political evolution, the areas of taxation occupied by the State, as compared with those areas left to local government, have been clearly defined in some instances. In other instances they have been loosely indicated with some overlapping. The State gave up ad valorem taxation of real property and restricted local government in certain other areas. The time is near, if not immediately at hand, when we must make a critical survey of our situation with a view to determining more definitely and expertly how the costs of government should be divided. This thinking leads inevitably to consideration of the haphazard, uneven valuation of property in the counties and cities for ad valorem levies.

The mercurial character of the State's tax levies, as well as the mounting costs of State services under the present constitutional and statutory responsibilities demand that we deliberate with great care all proposals to load the central State with large new obligations at the instance of local government. I say this while recognizing, with sympathy and understanding, that local government is entitled to the best we can do in equity and fairness to afford relief.

I have suggested the surrender by the State of a limited portion of the tax field wherein revenue now is derived from business licenses without State supervision or service of the business so licensed. By release of this revenue source to local government under statutory limitation, substantial local government aid could be provided. I am recommending, also, that the road maintenance funds allocated to city streets be doubled.

Knowing that greater demands will be made upon the legislature for aid of local government, including the demand that the State help with the construction of needed school buildings, I trust that the General Assembly will confide to a special or sub-committee the duty to make a prompt study of this pressing problem. I hope that this will be done early in the session, in order that all legislative proposals for new aid to local government may be scrutinized and acted upon with an eye not only to immediate needs, but also to long-range policy.

15. Federal Cooperation. We are now receiving millions of dollars each year from the Federal government in our road, school, health, and other programs. This aid may be increased. We should take full advantage of it. We have the campaign pledge of the Democratic Party that such federal aid will be extended without interference with State administration in accordance with custom.

Some of these proposals I have outlined involve a substantial increase in spending, but the people understood that when they encouraged me in my campaign. I have not and do not now minimize the cost of the major items in this Go Forward program.

We know from experience that these things cannot be had cheaply. We know from experience, too, that social progress cannot far outrun material progress.

Our tax income is now at the highest place in our history, but we have little assurance that our revenues will continue to climb as they have in recent years. Our sales, income and utility taxes are extremely sensitive to economic conditions. They mount rapidly in good times. They could drop rapidly in adverse times. We must bear that in mind as we match our spending against revenue.

There are certain injustices in our present general tax schedule. I have pledged my support to their removal. These include abandonment of the present sales tax on meals served in public eating places in order to place such meals on tax equality with those served at home. This would complete the movement begun several years ago of taking the sales tax off all food. I also advocate the equalization of the sales tax upon farm machinery and industrial machinery. These recommendations would entail some loss of revenue. To keep our budget in balance, and it is imperative that we do so, we are faced with the need to obtain good value for our tax dollars in every case.

This will mean, aside from improving administrative efficiency wherever possible, the winnowing of services merely desirable from those urgently necessary.

The program of permanent improvements authorized by the General Assembly of 1947 has scarcely been started because of the constantly increasing building costs. It is manifest that this program should be completed and the additional funds necessary should be provided. With respect to further permanent improvements at our various state institutions, it is necessary that the need be evaluated realistically and in relation to other needs. It is my belief that money we invest in better roads and in better schools and in better health facilities will go further and faster, in the immediate future, toward creating new taxable wealth and in social well-being essential to the progress our people desire. I have, therefore, placed roads, schools, and health first.

A Go Forward program calls first for long-range planning.

Every farmer will not get his all-weather road as soon as he would like it, and every community will not get a modern hospital this year. New and needed school buildings will not spring up everywhere immediately, and new factories will not rise in every community.

We are a great State, and a large State. We have over three and one half million people and nearly thirty-two million acres of land and inland waters. We are inclined to judge a program by what is transpiring at our doorstep. Some will see the things I am advocating materialize sooner than others. Some must inevitably wonder at the slowness of their government to get to them.

But this I pledge: With the cooperation of the Legislature, the things I have promised will be done in an orderly manner and as rapidly as our resources will permit. We will make North Carolina, in the four years ahead, a better place in which to live, in which to invest, and in which to play after the work is done.

To do this, we must bring our overall efficiency current with the times. Governments can no more maintain a competitive position with methods of a decade ago than can industry. Where I see our government in a rut, I shall do everything in my power to get it out. If this means reorganization or even abolition of time-honored practices, I shall not hesitate to recommend such changes as appear in the public interest.

Nor shall I hesitate to slash red tape or push aside tradition if it is necessary to eliminate bottlenecks.

Government should never be remote. The people are entitled to know what is going on. It is my purpose to go on the radio from time to time and make first hand reports of my stewardship. I shall also make information about our government available as fully and completely as possible through the reporters of press and radio. Secrecy has no place in a people's government.

I come into office with no skeletons in my closet, and I shall strive zealously to see that none creep into the State's closets while I am Governor.

The door to the Governor's office will continue to be open during my administration.

I am most acutely aware of the fact that both the office of the Governor in the Capitol and the Executive Mansion, and all the institutions and departments of Government, belong to you—the people—not to me whom you have designated as tenant in the office of Governor for the next four years.

In conclusion, I would not be speaking with candor if I did not say in no uncertain terms that I am proud of the progress made by our State under the guidance of a long line of distinguished men who have served as Governor during the past fifty years.

I have had the opportunity of serving the State in the administration of our last four Governors—Ehringhaus, Hoey, Broughton and Cherry. I cherish the opportunity to carry on the high tradition of public service established by my predecessors. I know that you ladies and gentlemen of this General Assembly also succeed a long line of patriotic citizens who have served the State faithfully as members of the Legislatures which have been the authors of the State's charter of progress. The record of our predecessors is a challenge to us to work shoulder to shoulder in the interest of all our people.

Let's go forward.

Touching the duties of Speaker

1. It shall be the duty of the Speaker to have the sessions of the House opened with prayer.

2. He shall take the Chair every day at the hour fixed by the House on the preceding legislative day, shall immediately call the members to order, and, on appearance of a quorum, cause the Journal of the preceding day to be approved.

3. He shall preserve order and decorum, may speak to points of order in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose, and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the House. A two-thirds vote of the members present shall be necessary to sustain any appeal from the ruling of the Chair.

4. He shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

5. Questions shall be put in this form, namely, "Those in favor (as the question may be) will say 'Aye,'" and after the affirmative voice has been expressed, "Those opposed will say, 'No'." Upon a call for a division the Speaker shall count; if required he shall appoint tellers.

6. The Speaker shall have a general direction of the hall. He shall have a right to name any member to perform the duties of the Chair, but substitution shall not extend beyond one day, except in case of sickness or by leave of the House.

7. All committees shall be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise specially ordered by the House.

8. In all elections the Speaker may vote. In all other cases he may exercise his right to vote, or he may reserve this right until there is a tie; but in no case shall he be allowed to vote twice on the same question.

9. All acts, addresses, and resolutions, and all warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the House shall be signed by the Speaker.

10. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries or lobby, the Speaker or other presiding officer shall have power to order the same to be cleared.

No member shall rise from his seat to introduce any petition, resolution, or bill out of order unless he is permitted so to do by a suspension of the rules.

ON DECORUM IN DEBATE

17. When the Speaker shall call a member to order, the member shall sit down, as also he shall when called to order by another member, unless the Speaker decides the point of order in his favor. But the House may, by consent of a majority, suspend the operations of this rule during any debate on any particular question before the House, or the Committee on Rules may bring in a special rule that shall be applicable to the debate on any bill.

20. While the Speaker is putting any question, or addressing the House, no person shall speak, stand up, walk out of or cross the House, nor when a member is speaking, entertain private discourse, stand up, or pass between him and the Chair.

22. Every member who shall be in the hall of the House for the above purpose when the question is put shall give his vote upon a call of the ayes and noes, unless the House for special reasons shall excuse him, and no application to be excused from voting or to explain a vote shall be entertained unless made before the call of the roll. The hall of the House shall include the lobbies and offices connected with the hall.

23. When a motion is made it shall be stated by the Speaker or, if written, it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Speaker or Clerk before debate. A motion to table or adjourn shall be seconded before the motion is put by the Speaker to the vote of the House.

24. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any two members request it.

25. After a motion is stated by the Speaker or read by the Clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn before a decision or amendment, except in case of a motion to reconsider, which motion, when made by a member, shall be deemed and taken to be in possession of the House, and shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House.

26. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or amend, which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged; and no motion to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or amend, being decided, shall be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

27. A motion to adjourn or lay on the table shall be decided without debate, and a motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the House is voting or some member is speaking; but a motion to adjourn shall not follow a motion to adjourn until debate or some other business of the House has intervened.

28. In case of adjournment without any hour being named, the House shall reconvene on the next legislative day at twelve o'clock noon.

29. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted on again during the session, except upon a two-thirds vote.

30. Any member may call for a division of the question, when the same shall admit of it, which shall be determined by the Speaker.

31. When a motion has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member of the majority to move for the reconsideration thereof, on the same or succeeding day, unless it may have subsequently passed the Senate, and no motion to reconsider shall be taken from the table except by a two-thirds vote. But unless such vote has been taken by a call of the yeas and nays, any member may move to reconsider.

32. When the reading of a paper is called for, which has been read in the Houses, and the same is objected to by any member, it shall be determined by a vote of the House.

33. Petitions, memorials, and other papers addressed to the House shall be presented by the Speaker; a brief statement of the contents thereof may be verbally made by the introducer before reference to a committee, but shall not be debated or decided on the day of their first being read, unless the House shall direct otherwise.

34. When the ayes and noes are called for on any question, it shall be on motion before the question is put; and if seconded by one fifth of the members present, the question shall be decided by the ayes and noes; and in taking the ayes and noes, or on a call of the House, the names of the members will be taken alphabetically.

35. Decency of speech shall be observed and personal reflection carefully avoided.

38. No member or officer of the House shall absent himself from the service of the House without leave, unless from sickness or inability.

39. Any member may excuse himself from serving on any committee if he is a member of two standing committees.

40. If any member shall be necessarily absent on temporary business of the House when a vote is taken upon any question, upon entering the House he shall be permitted, on request, to vote, provided that the result shall not be thereby affected.

41. No standing rule or order shall be rescinded or altered without one day's notice given on the motion thereof, and to sustain such motion two-thirds of the House shall be required.

42. The members of the House shall uncover their heads upon entering the House while it is in session, and shall continue so uncovered during their continuance in the hall, except Quakers.

43. A motion to reconsider shall be determined by a majority vote, except a motion to reconsider an indefinite postponement, or a motion to reconsider a motion tabling a motion to reconsider, which shall require a two-thirds vote.

44. After a bill has been tabled or has failed to pass on any of its readings, the contents of such bill or the principal provisions of its subject-matter shall not be embodied in any other measure. Upon the point of order being raised and sustained by the Chair, such measure shall be laid upon the table, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a vote of two-thirds of the elected membership of the House: Provided, no local bill shall be held by the Chair as embodying the provisions or being identical with any Statewide measure which has been laid upon the table, or failed to pass any of its readings. No amendment or rider to a bill before the House shall be in order unless such rider or amendment is germane to the bill under consideration.

45. A motion to table an amendment sent up from the floor shall not be construed as a motion to table the principal bill or any other amendment which has been offered thereto, and if such motion is carried, only the amendment shall lie upon the table.

46. When a member desires to interrupt a member having the floor he shall first obtain recognition by the Chair and permission of the member occupying the floor, and when so recognized and such permission is obtained he may propound a question to the member occupying the floor, but he shall not propound a series of questions or interrogatories or otherwise interrupt the member having the floor; and the Speaker shall, without the point of order being raised, enforce this rule.

The Clerk of the House shall keep a separate calendar of the public, local, and private bills, and shall number them in the order in which they are introduced, and all bills shall be disposed of in the order they stand upon the Calendar; but the Committee on Rules may at any time arrange the order of precedence in which bills may be considered. PREVIOUS QUESTION

62. The previous question shall be as follows: "Shall the main question be now put?" and, until it is decided, shall preclude all amendments and debate. If this question shall be decided in the affirmative, the "main question" shall be on the passage of the bill, resolution, or other matter under consideration; but when amendments are pending, the question shall be taken upon such amendments, in inverse order, without further debate or amendment. If such question be decided in the negative, the main question shall be considered as remaining under debate; Provided, that no one shall move the previous question except the member submitting the report on the bill or other matter under consideration, and the member introducing the bill or other matter under consideration, or the member in charge of the measure, who shall be designated by the chairman of the committee reporting the same to the House at the time the bill or other matter under consideration is reported to the House or taken up for consideration.

(1) Previous question.

(2) To adjourn.

(3) To lay on the table.

And then upon the main question, or amendments, or the motion to postpone indefinitely, postpone to a day certain, to commit, or amend, in the order of their precedence, until the main question is reached or disposed of; but after the previous question has been called by a majority, no motion, or amendment, or debate shall be in order.

All motions below the motions to lay on the table must be made prior to a motion for the previous question; but, pending and not after the second therefor, by the majority of the House, a motion to adjourn or lay on the table, or both, are in order. Motions stand as follows in order of precedence in Rule 26:

Previous question.

Adjourn.

Lay on the table.

Postpone definitely.

To commit or amend. or amend.

When the previous question is called, all motions below it fall, unless made prior to the call, and all motions above it fall after its second by a majority required. Pending the second, the motions to adjourn and lay on the table are in order, but not after a second. When in order and every motion is before the House, the question stands as follows:

Previous question.

Adjourn.

Lay on the table.

Postpone indefinitely.

Postpone definitely.

To commit.

Amendment to amendment.

Amendment.

Substitute.

Bill.

The previous question covers all other motions when seconded by a majority of the House, and proceeds by regular graduation to the main question, without debate, amendment, or motion, until such question is reached or disposed of.

When the House is not in session the pages shall be under the supervision of the Principal Clerk.

69. The chairman and five other members of any committee shall constitute a yourum of said committee for the transaction of business.

70. The Committee on the Journal shall examine daily the Journal of the House before the hour of convening, and report after the opening of the House whether or not the proceedings of the previous day have been correctly recorded.

71. When a bill shall be reported by a committee with a recommendation that it be not passed, but accompanied by a minority report, the question before the House shall be "The adoption of the minority report," and if failing to be adopted by a majority vote, the bill shall be placed upon the unfavorable calendar. Such minority report shall be signed by at least one-fourth of the members of the Committee who were present and voting when the bill was considered in Committee. In the event there is an unfavorable report with no minority report accompanying it, the bill shall be placed upon the unfavorable calendar. To take a bill from the unfavorable calendar, a two-thirds vote shall be necessary.

72. A bill from the unfavorable calendar shall not be debatable, but the movant may make a brief and concise statement of the reasons for the motion before making the motion, taking not more than five minutes.

Such copy shall be daily delivered to the joint committee hereinafter provided for. The Principal Clerk shall deliver the carbon copy of the bill designated to be printed, as hereinafter provided for, to the Public Printer and cause four hundred copies thereof to be printed. On the morning following the delivery of the printed copies, the Chief Clerk shall cause the chief page to have one copy thereof put upon the desk of each member and shall retain the other printed copies in his office. A sufficient number of the printed copies for the use of the committee to which the bill is referred shall be by the chief page delivered to the chairman or clerk of that committee. If the bill is passed, the remaining copies shall be by the chief page delivered to the Principal Clerk of the Senate for the use of the Senate. The cost of printing shall be paid from the contingent fund of the House of Representatives. The Chairman of the Rules Committee of the House and the Chairman of the Rules Committee of the Senate shall appoint a sub-committee consisting of two members of the House and two members of the Senate from the body of the House and Senate, and such chairmen shall notify the Principal Clerk of the House and the Senate who has been so appointed. Such sub-committee shall meet daily and examine the carbon copies of the public bills introduced and determine which of such bills shall be printed and which shall not, and stamp the copies accordingly. Such sub-committees shall serve for one week unless for good cause the chairmen of the respective rules committees shall determine otherwise. If the member introducing a public bill, which the committee shall determine should not be printed, so desires, he may appear before the committee at the next meeting thereof with reference thereto.

74. Whenever any resolution or bill is introduced a carbon copy thereof shall be attached thereto, and the Principal Clerk shall cause said carbon copy to be numbered as the original resolution or bill is numbered, and shall cause the same to be available at all times to the member introducing the same. MESSAGE ON BUDGET

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the General Assembly:

I submit herewith the budget of the State of North Carolina, as required by the Executive Budget Act, for the biennium beginning July 1, 1949. I am also transmitting the Budget Revenue Bill and the Budget Appropriation Bills printed and submitted according to law.

Former General Assemblies have established the Revenue Bill as a continuing and permanent Revenue Act. The changes recommended by the Advisory Budget Commission, and former Governor Cherry as Director of the Budget at the time this budget was prepared, include certain administrative and procedural amendments. The Revenue Bill provides for certain reductions in taxes. It provides for no new taxes.

The budget as submitted calls for appropriations from the General Fund of $258,752,032 for the ensuing biennium. This represents an increase of approximately 68 million dollars over the total appropriated for the present biennium. It is the largest appropriations bill in the history of the State. This recommended budget is balanced against estimated tax collections for the fiscal years 1949-51.

The Appropriations Bill provides for general State administration services the sum of $17,286,000. This reflects increased salaries for State employees. Altogether some 52,000 school teachers and other State employees would be the beneficiaries of this proposal. In addition you are receiving a supplemental appropriations bill calling for $11,275,000 for salary adjustments, retroactive to November 1, 1948, and for the remainder of this biennium. These funds would come from the General Fund surplus.

For our public schools, the recommended budget calls for $167,521,000 in the next biennium. This is about 39 million dollars more than was appropriated for schools during the present biennium. For higher educational institutions, the budget provides for 22 million dollars—an increase of eight millions over the allocation for this purpose during this biennium.

Charitable and Correctional Institutions would receive, if this budget is adopted, a total of $22,331,000 from the State. This represents an increase of seven millions.

There is provision in this budget for more than eight million dollars for Old Age Assistance and Needy Children—an increase of over three million dollars on the part of the State. This, however, is only part of the picture. The State appropriations, combined with Federal and local contributions, would give the aged and needy a total of nearly 45 million dollars in the two years ahead. This would be 12 millions more than they received during the present biennium.

For road building and improvement the proposed budget sets up expenditures of $98 million dollars. This is 11 millions less than was appropriated for this biennium, when the highway fund reflected the accumulated wartime surplus. This would provide for less road construction than was budgeted for the current biennium. Obviously this would fall far short of accomplishing the broad-scale program of all-weather road building I propose, and could not meet the expressed desire of the people for dependable school bus routes and service roads for industry and agriculture. I call this to your attention at this time, but I shall present a special message on this subject at a later date.

The Permanent Improvements Bill provides for expenditures totalling nearly 72 million dollars. This is 21 millions more than was allocated for this purpose two years ago, but again this figure does not tell the whole story because 27 millions of it is earmarked to supplement appropriations of the current biennium which were insufficient in the face of increased building costs.

For extending hospital facilities to areas not now adequately served, this recommended budget provides for nearly $7,000,000—but this is only a fraction of the sum that would be available for this purpose, because, with Federal and local contributions, plus reassignment of approximately $4,000,000 of Federal funds allocated for State buildings but not used in the current biennium, the total available for the hospital building program will total approximately 28 million dollars.

All of the monies appropriated for permanent improvements come from the accumulated General Fund surplus, which it is estimated will amount to 86 million dollars as of June 30, 1949. Another 11 million dollars of this surplus is allocated in the Supplementary Appropriations bill for the salary and wage adjustments, and $2,793,000 is left unappropriated.

No part of the General Fund surplus is taken into account in the recommended Budget Appropriations Bill. The entire 258 millions proposed for the operation of State services during the next biennium is based upon anticipated General Fund tax collections. I draw your attention emphatically to this. The Advisory Budget Commission has recommended spending almost to the limit of revenues in sight on the basis of current collections, which the Commission is inclined to believe represent a peak for the time being.

The Advisory Budget Commission did not commit itself without recognition of the possibility that State revenues may decline in the next biennium. In addition to retaining two and three-quarters million dollars in the General Fund surplus the Commission recommends retaining the 30 million dollar Post War Reserve Fund intact. This fund is now invested in United States bonds that are yielding interest more than $300,000 a year to the General Fund.

There can be no doubt as to the desirability of protecting appropriations based on anticipated revenues in times as uncertain as these. Should we have a sharp drop in revenues, the nearly 33 million dollars held in reserve would serve as a cushion to prevent repetition of such a disastrous situation as confronted the State in the panic of the early 1930's, but it is for the General Assembly to decide whether we are justified in holding back all of this money in the face of unfilled service needs to the people. We must remember that the Reserve Fund was established to meet emergencies.

No Revenue Machinery bill is transmitted because the Advisory Budget Commission recommends no change. The Machinery bill, like the Revenue law, is a continuing Act. I suggest at this time, however, that serious consideration be given to providing for payroll deduction of the State Income tax on the basis now employed by the Federal Government. I am confident that this would not only increase income tax collections, but would serve to distribute the tax more equitably among those obligated by law to pay income tax. I feel that a change to this method would serve in the long run to lighten the tax burden on many taxpayers by bringing to the State's tax rolls those who for one reason or another are not now contributing their proper share to the expense of the public services they enjoy. I do not feel that a change to this method would impose any great additional burden upon employers, because they already have facilities to handle this in order to meet federal requirements for various payroll deductions.

I would also suggest searching scrutiny of our State tax collection procedures to bring about stricter collection of taxes due the State. Everything possible should be done to make certain that none pays an undue part of the cost of public services while others escape their just obligation. This should produce additional revenue without additional taxes.

The recommended Budget provides for reduction of the franchise tax on corporations from $1.50 to $1.25 a thousand dollars of determined value. This would entail an estimated revenue loss of $800,000 during the next biennium. Also proposed is a reduction of the tax on farm machinery from three percent to one-twentieth of one percent, which is the rate presently paid upon industrial machinery. It is estimated that the loss from this reduction would amount to $1,650,000. This is one way of equalizing this tax. I strongly advocate removal of inequity wherever it is apparent.

I point out at this time that I advocate certain tax reductions which are not reflected in the budget. These include removal of the three percent sales tax on meals served in public eating places, and the surrender of part of the Schedule B License yield to our financially hard-pressed cities and counties. Adoption of these recommendations would cause loss to the State of about 10 million dollars or more in the next biennium.

The Advisory Budget Commission did not explore possible new sources of revenue. Nor is it customary for it to make such suggestions. It deals largely with estimated revenues from present levies, and it has recommended spending these fully.

In view of the greatly increased appropriations recommended, I point out at this time that certain important phases of the GO FORWARD program I have outlined are not to be paid for out of General Fund tax monies.

The Rural Electrification and Telephone programs will be financed by other than State funds.

The road program will be paid for directly by those who use and enjoy the benefits of better roads.

On the other hand, raising the standard of our public schools as far as we can to meet the requirements of the times, would require great increase in General Fund expenditures. The appropriation recommended for public schools, although 39 million dollars more than ever before allocated to this purpose, does not provide for the $2,400 minimum salary for teachers or increments that our educational leaders contend are essential to retaining qualified and experienced teachers in our classrooms. There is no provision for a State-financed school building program in these proposals.

As I mentioned in my Inaugural Address, we may have substantial Federal aid in improving our schools, but we have no definite assurance of this. The recommendations of the Advisory Budget Commission, while cutting the pattern of appropriations for schools as fully as the revenue cloth would permit, still fall short of the educational goal.

I say this in full realization that we must have no deficit spending. My desire is to use the State's tax resources to the fullest safe point. Obviously we must allocate these resources as equitably as possible among all necessary services and every need and appropriation should be weighed in relation to other needs and appropriations.

A study of the budget report will show that the Advisory Budget Commission emerged from the hearings relative to the needs of the State convinced that the tax resources the people have accumulated in Raleigh should be transmuted into the most urgently needed services.

The recommendations of former Governor Cherry, as chairman, and the members of the Commission, are that the bulk of accumulated funds and all anticipated revenues be committed as nearly up to the hilt as sound planning can justify.

I sat with the Commission during its hearings, and I am unable to point to any gross inequities in its report. In the main, it is my belief that the Commission has been guided by patriotic wisdom and a fine sense of equity in formulating the proposals for distribution of the resources in contemplation.

I recommend your careful study of the statement of the Commission accompanying the budget report which reveals clearly the reasoning of the group. As I have said, the Commission is justified in being cautious in planning expenditures in anticipation of increases in revenues from present tax levies.

Those who fight for increased appropriations must base their hopes upon new revenue or aid from Washington, or both. It must be realized that these budget proposals are the largest in the State's history. It must also be realized that we cannot in the aggregate go further safely without new taxes.

I have the greatest confidence in the devotion of the Members of the General Assembly to the cause of public service, and I have equal confidence that by working together in the closest cooperation we will justify the faith of the people who elected us to serve them.

Respectfully submitted,

W. KERR SCOTT, Governor

SPECIAL MESSAGE ON ROADS DELIVERED BY GOVERNOR W. KERR SCOTT BEFORE A JOINT SESSION OF THE NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY. January 17, 1949, 9 P. M.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Members of The General Assembly:

When I delivered the Advisory Budget Commission report and recommendations to you, I stated that a special message would be forthcoming on roads. I come before the Joint Session of the General Assembly now with that promised message. I do this to give as much emphasis as possible to a problem which is not dealt with effectively in recommendations now before you.

Throughout the primary and general election campaigns of last year, as I went from one end of this State to the other, I found the people more acutely aware of the disabling condition of secondary roads than of any other deficiency in public service. A great percentage of North Carolina's population is rural. Masses of the people are living on dirt roads—many of which become impassable in bad weather. This condition affects the lives of so many of our people, and it affects them so importantly, that the need for secondary road improvements is foremost in their thinking.

It is difficult for the man who lives in town, or on a hard-surface road, to appreciate the plight of his brother whose home is on a mud road; but it is not difficult for these more fortunate citizens, after they know the facts, to realize that the "Mud Tax" is also a great obstacle to bettering their own economic status. Many thousands of North Carolina families are bogged down today as surely as the entire State was bogged down in those years preceding the first great road-building push which was instituted under the leadership of Governor Morrison little more than a quarter of a century ago. These masses of the people have waited patiently while the State recovered from the drain on its resources occasioned by building its now great framework of principal highways. But there is a notable lessening of that patience now. The people are demanding that something be done to lift them out of the mud.

No one who followed closely the course of the recent campaign could fail to sense the strength and significance of the people's interest in a proposal to make our great network of school bus routes and farm-to-market roads dependable in all kinds of weather. As a candidate for nomination and for election, I made building and improvement of our secondary roads a paramount issue. It was an issue understood and appreciated, as men always understand and appreciate a condition that seriously affects their cultural and economic well-being.

The problem has now been lifted up where everyone can see it. Everyone interested in a fair deal for the people and the rounded development of the State's resources, should be deeply concerned over this road issue.

The steady and satisfactory use of our consolidated schools and other cultural institutions is dependent upon improvement of these secondary roads. Also dependent upon it, is the profitable marketing of the farmer's goods, and the growth of cities and towns which benefit from the trade of rural and suburban dwellers. Better secondary roads will mean not only the successful marketing of what the farmer produces now, but they will mean increased production of milk, truck and meat as rural enterprise is stimulated. Better roads may be relied upon, also, to facilitate the use by factories of the great diffused labor supply of this State. We cannot build a great State without full development of our resources and resourcefulness.

Our nation is entering the atomic age. The scientist's hands are at work on harnessing an almost unlimited supply of new energy. Because society has not solved the issues which could lead us to war, there exists a great and growing danger from the concentration of people and industrial production. Our State, with its many small towns . . . no large cities . . . and its thickly populated countryside, is among the ideal areas for decentralized industry. North Carolina's labor supply is great. These workers should be able to live in rural areas and still reach the factory—whether that factory is located in town or country. Dependable secondary roads leading to the homes of this good labor supply should attract more industry to the State.

I have referred to mud roads as the greatest bottleneck to North Carolina's progress. A great deal of courage was required to borrow the money necessary to inaugurate the State Highway program in the 1920's. At that time many people were fearful of the outcome of this bold approach to our road problem. We know now that the investment returned a handsome yield. As the people were unshackled by the new roads, their increased production brought the State great new tax resources.

The Advisory Budget Commission has recommended budgeting the estimated income, and the now small reserves of the State Highway and Public Works fund, in such way as to assure that the Governor and the Highway Commission can use them in full. But these resources are substantially less than were available during the last four years. They are grossly inadequate to do what the people have asked us to do. It is clear that more must be provided if North Carolina is to speed up its progress in secondary road-building. It is also clear that further financial provisions must be made if the rate of secondary road building is increased to meet the needs of the people.

This brings us squarely face to face with the question of ways and means. We cannot do the job that needs to be done, or any great part of it, without increasing taxes or borrowing money. In view of my insistence upon building these roads as rapidly as sound practice and our resources will permit, I see it as my duty to come to you promptly with the problem. I see it as my duty, also, to share fully with you the responsibility for determining ways and means.

We have a 63,000-mile road system in the State that must continue to grow. Only about 16,000 miles are hardsurfaced. A great portion of the remaining mileage has not been strengthened with enough stone, gravel and other stabilizing materials to make it dependable. These inadequately treated roads are bearing a great deal of the school bus, market and business traffic essential not only to country life, but to our whole economic and social advance.

The budget you now have before you calls for spending more tax money for schools than anything else. No one disagrees with the wisdom of this distribution. But I do raise the question as to how well we are spending tax money on schools when we do not have the roads in many cases to get our children to them on a dependable basis.

I am conscious of the fact that the State cannot hard-surface or surface-treat all of this mileage in the four years ahead, but I believe that we should set as our goal now the completion of 12,000 miles of the most important of these roads with surface treatment. I also believe that we should improve the rest of our rural roads sufficiently to make sure, by the end of the next four years, that bad road conditions cannot interrupt school bus service, nor seriously impede transportation of farm produce to market—or workers to industry.

For this undertaking we will need substantial funds in addition to our present resources in reserve and taxes allocated for highway building and maintenance. Therefore, I come before you with the urgent recommendation that you enact a law providing for a bond issue for secondary roads in the amount of two hundred million dollars to be submitted to the people in a special election to be held as early as possible. I further recommend that the proceeds from this bond issue be earmarked for the one purpose of improving secondary roads—and no other—and that you provide by statute that there be no spending of any highways taxes during the life of these bonds for any purpose except those presently financed, and that this anti-diversion clause be written into the Act providing for the referendum. This safeguard would permit continuation of the primary road program without interruption while the secondary roads are being improved.

I also recommend an increase of one cent a gallon in the gasoline tax to help pay off these bonds as we use the roads.

The debt service on a two hundred million dollar bond issue would average about $14,500,000 a year under provisions for its full retirement in 20 years, based on the present favorable bond market. Present debt service requirements of the highway fund will dwindle to a small amount by the time the new bond issue requirements would become large, since the bonds would be marketed gradually as the money is needed to pay for the new roads. This means that one cent a gallon additional gasoline tax, producing some $7,000,000 a year, plus an amount equal to the present debt service of the old bonds, would in large part take care of the bond issue I recommend.

All that I am asking the General Assembly to do at this time is to give the Governor the privilege of taking the people this proposed method for building the roads, and levying an additional one cent a gallon on gasoline. I am well aware of the fact that our Constitution, as recently amended, required a vote of the people on such a bond issue. I am in complete accord with that Constitutional safeguard. In fact, I voted last November against its repeal. It is just and proper that the people decide by majority vote whether they wish to ratify this road bond issue. But is urgent that you, as their law-makers, and I, as their Governor, know as promptly as possible whether the money will be available.

Before making these recommendations to you, I have investigated other means of financing. All other proposals, naturally, would require heavy additional taxation.

I arrived at the conclusions presented to you in this message after consulting with numerous groups representing a fair cross-section of our people. These included leaders in the fields of education and public health, highway transport and road construction, county commissioners and members and employees of the State Highway Commission, farmers and rural mail carriers, industrialists and small business men, and representatives of the petroleum industry.

I found almost unanimous agreement that the combination of borrowing money at low interest rates, and a moderate increase in the gasoline tax would be the best method to do the job in the fairest and least burdensome manner.

I ask you now for your cooperation in activating this vital phase of our Go Forward Program.

EVENING SESSION

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Thursday, February 10, 1949

The House meets pursuant to its recess and is called to order by Mr. Speaker Ramsay.

SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER
February 10, 1949

Mr. Speaker:

Pursuant to Joint Resolution No. 109 entitled, "A Joint Resolution inviting His Excellency, The Governor, to address a joint session of the Senate and the House of Representatives at eight o'clock, P. M., February 10, 1949", the Senate stands ready to repair to the Hall of the House there to sit in Joint Session with your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
S. RAY BYERLY, Principal Clerk.

JOINT SESSION

Pursuant to the resolution heretofore adopted and exchange of messages, the Sergeant-at-Arms announces the approach of the Senate and that Body, preceded by its officers, comes into the Hall of the House and are assigned seats, Lieutenant Governor Taylor at the right of Mr. Speaker Ramsay, the purpose of the Joint Session being to hear a special message on schools and school buildings from His Excellency, Governor W. Kerr Scott.

The Joint Session is called to order by Lieutenant Governor Taylor and the arrival of the Governor is announced.

The Joint Committee of the House and Senate comes into the Hall of the House, acting as an escort to Governor Scott, who approaches the Dais and delivers his address as follows:

"I am grateful to you for holding this joint session tonight so that we can consider together the urgent problems facing us in the field of public education.

Our State recognized the need for uniform educational opportunity half a century ago. Legislators of another generation wrote this principle into our constitution. We have made substantial progress, but we are faced now with a large and growing deficit in this vital public service.

The Legislature of two years ago authorized Governor Cherry to appoint a commission to survey our public school problem from every angle and report back to this General Assembly. That report has been submitted to you. It points out the urgent need of acting without delay to bring our school system current with the times.

The Education Commission and the State Board of Education join in recommending that 50 million dollars be made available for funding our deficit in school buildings.

In my opinion, our present school building deficiencies constitute an emergency justifying putting to use the 30 million dollars of tax monies collected during the war period and now held idle in the Post War Reserve Fund. I recommend action to make this money, and other money that may be earmarked for this purpose available, to the counties for school buildings in a manner to be decided upon by this Legislature as best to meet this need.

I recommend this use of the Post War Reserve Fund in full realization that this money may be needed to protect appropriations for the next biennium against disaster such as occurred in the early 1930's when State revenues fell below appropriations, and I do so only upon condition that such a revenue cushion be retained by another method.

I recommend that this be done by authorizing submission to the people of a 50 million dollar bond issue to be submitted at the same time that the 200 million dollar road issue is voted upon. This issue would be submitted with the provision that none of the bonds be sold until the 30 million dollars of tax money now idle in the Reserve Fund is used up, or in the event that it is necessary to replenish the Reserve Fund to prevent reductions in appropriations due to insufficient general fund tax collections. Should it be necessary to so replenish the Reserve fund, proceeds from the sale of these bonds would be used up to the full amount of 30 million dollars for this purpose.

By this method, we can not only put practically all the remaining general fund surplus to work in fulfilling a vital public service need, but at the same time retain a safety valve to protect us from disruption of all State services in the event tax collections fall below budget estimates.

We can meet this school building emergency without additional taxes in the next biennium. But as to school teacher salaries and school operating expense it is another story.

We must face that problem, too, and we must face it now.

Both the State Board of Education and the State Education Commission recommend a starting salary for teachers holding standard certificates of $2,400 a year, and annual increments enabling standard certificate teachers to attain a maximum salary of $3,600 in twelve years.

I am committed to such a salary schedule, and many of you are. It is the goal we wish to attain with the least possible delay. We are faced now with the question of how to pay the bill.

For teachers' salaries and all other school operating expenses paid by the State, the Advisory Budget Commission recommended 83 million dollars for the next year, and 84 and one-half million for the year following. This would provide a salary increase for teachers averaging about 20 per cent.

I have conferred with a good many teachers and educational leaders and some have expressed the opinion that it would be best not to jeopardize future Federal Aid by moving too fast toward attainment of this goal. I am in agreement to the extent that it would be best to try at this time to lay the groundwork for full utilization of Federal Aid or increased State revenues when the situation is clearer than it will be during this session of the General Assembly. Therefore, I am suggesting an interim salary schedule which could be increased if Federal Aid becomes available at a later date. I would not hesitate to call the Legislature back into Special Session to deal promptly with any situation that might arise in this connection.

For our immediate consideration, I have received estimates on an increased salary schedule that we may find it possible to pay without Federal Aid.

To provide a salary schedule ranging from 22 hundred dollars to a top of 31 hundred dollars, and for other school operating expenses, an appropriation of approximately 104 million dollars a year—or nearly 21 millions more than allocated by the Advisory Budget Commission—will be needed.

State tax money is not now in sight even for these reduced figures, but under the Foundation Plan of the State Education Commission the cost could be divided 85 per cent from the State and 15 per cent from the counties upon the basis of their ability to pay. Under such a division of costs between State and counties, an increase of about 7½ millions a year over the Advisory Budget Recommendations would be necessary.

Added to this 7½ million increase for the public schools is another 2½ millions for items not included in the budget recommendations, but which are urgently necessary. These include $1,650,000 for public health, $350,000 for urgent public relief under our welfare program, and $455,000 for agricultural services already approved by the Agricultural Committees of the House and Senate.

This makes a total of at least ten million dollars needed over and above Advisory Budget Commission recommendations and estimated tax revenue for the next year—and this is before any deductions in revenue are made to equalize tax inequalities, to provide for sharing certain taxes with municipalities to aid them in meeting their financial distress, or for further raises for State employees other than school teachers.

The situation boils down to the unpleasant fact that we have considerably greater demands for money for worthy and necessary purposes than we can meet without additional revenue.

I do not feel that I would be discharging my responsibility as Governor if I dumped this problem in your lap without transmitting with it the best advice I have been able to get on how to raise more money.

One way to do it would be to stop tax leaks, and I favor granting the request of the State Revenue Department for $48,000 to employ additional auditors. I have received estimates that a million dollars a year additional can be collected through their services.

But this still would be only a drop in the bucket, and this morning I met at length with Mr. Suiter and Dr. Rae of the State Tax Research Department, and with other tax experts. They suggested additional sources of revenue.

You are entitled to this information developed by your own Tax Research Department, for the most serious consideration in meeting the problems at hand. I give it to you for careful study and not as specific recommendations from me at this time. There may be other and better methods that you will develop in your deliberations. It is my belief that we should leave no possibility unexplored in our efforts to meet fair and urgent demands for public service with the least burden to our taxpayers, and to avoid the necessity of the State's re-entering the field of ad valorem taxation.

Here are the suggestions of the Tax Research Department:

1. One-cent a bottle on soft drinks and one-cent on each fountain drink. It is estimated that this would raise $4,000,000 a year.

2. Ten per cent tax on all amusements. Estimates are that this would net $1,700,000 a year.

3. Raise personal income tax brackets from 3 to 7 per cent to 4 to 8 per cent. It is estimated this would bring in $5,000,000 a year.

4. Tax cigars from 1 to 3 cents, depending upon price. Estimates are that this would raise $1,200,000 a year.

5. Tax cigarettes one-cent a package. It is estimated this would net $3,000,000 a year.

6. Raise the tax on spiritous liquors from 8½ to 15 per cent. Estimates are that this would yield $2,500,000 a year.

The Tax Research Department also has figures—which are too complex or qualified to present in detail here—for increasing general fund revenues by disallowing present exemption of stocks of certain corporations, a gross receipts tax on hotels, a stock transfer tax, a motor vehicle title transfer tax, an excise tax on banks, an unincorporated business franchise tax, an insurance premium tax, and from the collection of income taxes by payroll deduction.

Details on all these proposals are available in the Tax Research Office.

To GO FORWARD, we must provide adequately for our public schools and other public services. To GO FORWARD, it is now obvious after five weeks of this General Assembly, that we must find more tax money.

I believe we can do both if the people are fully informed that to obtain these public services they must pay more taxes.

There is no point in playing hide-and-seek with this problem. Let's get it in the open and thresh it out. I have no fear as to our ability, working together, to arrive at solutions that are just and in the best interest of our State."

On motion of Senator Moss, the Joint Session dissolves.

On motion of Mr. Harris the House adjourns and will meet tomorrow at twelve o'clock noon.

STATEMENT OF MEMBER

Upon the request of Mr. Harris the House gives unanimous consent for him to make the following statement; and same is ordered spread upon the Journal.

"I thank you for permission to make this unimportant but very sincere statement. I do so for two reasons. In the first place, it is my belief that House Bill No. 4 which bears my name alone, contributed to the need for Governor Scott to appear before the Joint Session last Thursday evening. In the second place, I am neither "timid nor afraid." Here and now, in the presence of this company and without equivocation, I gladly accept my just and proper share of the responsibility for the things we do or fail to do.

In the very beginning, I want to thank Governor Scott for his appearance and his address. I am grateful to him for the recommendations and suggestions he saw fit to make. Nothing I have said or shall say should be construed as any sort of criticism of him. He made the recommendations and suggestions in good faith, and it is definitely in the hands of the General Assembly to accept or reject these proposals.

I am neither wise enough nor foolish enough to undertake to speak for any other member of the House. I do claim the right to speak for myself, but in so doing, I am not vain enough to believe it will affect the thinking of other people. It is hardly necessary for me to make further reference to the problem which I regard as a major one. I hope and believe all of us are in agreement that we should first make ample and satisfactory provision for the mental and physical unfortunates. Next in line, I am thinking of the children now in school and all of those presently under school age.

It is impossible for me to join up with those members of the Assembly who would spend with abandon the accumulated surplus, the reserves, and the anticipated tax receipts for the two year period beginning next July first—all without reference to the undeniable need for State aid to counties in the matter of school buildings. I am not yet convinced that a bond issue is the only alternative. If it proves to be, then I shall be willing to accept the principle of going to the people with the program. I confess that all this talk about bonds and more bonds, spending and more spending, taxes and more taxes—bewilders me.

At this point, it may not be out of place to say that North Carolina is, in my opinion, the very finest of the forty eight which go to make up the United States of America. Notwithstanding this modest but truthful claim, it is distressing to note that our part of the national debt, in round figures, is about six billion dollars. This means six thousand million dollars. It also means approximately seventeen hundred dollars for every man, woman and child in the commonwealth.

I do not think this is the time to start on a "witch hunt" for new sources to tax. I must respectfully decline to join in any such expenditure. None of the suggestions made are entirely new. Every possibility mentioned, and several others not mentioned, have been there all the while. It is my earnest belief that we should be very careful with respect to certain proposed reductions in the revenue bill, and it is my devout hope that we can accommodate our spending to fit in with the present tax structure.

With each passing day, it becomes plainer, to me at least, that the thirty million dollar reserve fund is a mighty good insurance policy to have. I am quite willing to concede that there is nothing especially sacred about it, but I am very happy to join with Governor Scott in his statement that even though it may be used temporarily—steps should be taken to safeguard its continuance.

For a period of 22 years, it has been my privilege to have at least some minor connection with the affairs of State government. During that time I have made many mistakes. This statement may be just another blunder, but it is made in all honesty and in an effort to record my present thinking. I know that you, and each of you, have exactly the same sort of jealous concern for the dependable and durable welfare of North Carolina. In this state of confusion, I covet your good will, your tolerance, and your counsel.

SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER
February 23, 1949

Mr. Speaker:

It is ordered that a message be sent informing your Honorable Body that pursuant to House Resolution No. 428 entitled "Joint Resolution inviting the Governor to address the General Assembly", the President has appointed as a Committee on the part of the Senate to act with a like Committee named by your Honorable Body to escort His Excellency, Governor W. Kerr Scott into the Hall of the House to address the Joint Session: Senators Penny and Vann.

Respectfully,
S. RAY BYERLY, Principal Clerk.

JOINT SESSION

Pursuant to House Resolution No. 428 entitled "a joint resolution inviting the Governor to address the General Assembly", the hour fixed by the joint resolution having arrived, the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House announces the approach of the Senate. That Body, preceded by its officers, comes into the Hall of the House and are assigned seats, Lieutenant-Governor Taylor at the right of Mr. Speaker Ramsay.

The House is called to order by Lieutenant-Governor Taylor, who announces the purpose of the Joint Session is to hear an address by His Excellency, Governor W. Kerr Scott.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the House announces the approach of the Governor. Governor Scott, escorted by the joint committee of the House and Senate, comes into the Hall of the House, approaches the Dais and delivers his address as follows:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the General Assembly:

I come before you to discuss the matter of our joint responsibility with respect to a liquor prohibition election that is being demanded by a large percentage of the people. My part of the responsibility exists because I pledged myself to do all that I could, if elected governor, to insure a referendum. Your part of this responsibility is the decision whether the demand shall be granted or denied.

Bills are already before you to submit to the voters of North Carolina, in a special election, the issue of the legal sale of whiskey. One of these bills would allow the people to decide between the total prohibition of whiskey and the present plan of legislative control under which local option is permitted. With all the earnestness I possess I urge you to enact this measure, or other suitable legislation, to let the people make that decision.

The question of how any citizen would vote in the election is not pertinent to debate of this matter. The referendum itself is the issue. Ours is a representative form of government, but the people are sovereign. When they speak in a constitutionally-held election, their voice is the Supreme law. Our State Constitution does not amplify sovereignty—it is a self-imposed limitation on it—but that Constitution points a steady finger to a duty of those chosen by the people to represent them and to govern them—the duty to let the people speak.

I would not say that an election should be held whenever a small segment of the people manifests discontent with a law or a policy of government. But I do say that when the demand for referendum becomes strong enough to raise an honest and reasonable doubt as to the will of the majority of the people, that to deny an election is to subject our democratic form of government to contempt that is both unjust and dangerous.

I have referred to the fact that our State Constitution is a self-imposed limitation on popular sovereignty. Yet it bears in its text a reminder, if any be needed, that the people are the real rulers. The Constitution stipulates that "For the redress of grievances and for amending and strengthening the laws, elections should be often held." This admonition of frequent elections is not in our Constitution by accident. It expresses the purposefulness of our democratic spirit. It recognizes and emphasizes the true source and residence of political power.

There must be an honest and reasonable doubt in every one of us as to what a majority of the people will do if this election is called. In this light, it is arrogance for anyone vested with authority by the people to withhold from them the right to decide a question when they are clamoring to decide it themselves. North Carolinians are a stubborn people when their rights are invaded or withheld. As governor, I cannot call this election. All that I can do is to urge you to act.

There is limitless room for differences of opinion as to the best way to police and control the liquor traffic. There is room for wide variation of opinion as to where the boundaries should be set for operation of the democratic process of decision. But there can be no division as to who has the right under our law to decide. That right lies with the people—the makers and fashioners of all political subdivisions within the State.

The facts and reasoning which impel much of the opposition to prohibition are well-known to the people. The people know the bootlegging problem. They know that legal whiskey is available across the State borders on nearly all sides. The people can evaluate the plea that the counties be allowed to make their own decisions as to legalizing the sale—or prohibiting the sale of liquor. The people also know the extent of the revenues derived from liquor profits and taxes.

All of these considerations would have their effect when the people cast their ballots—but I submit that they should not influence you now in deciding whether to order an election or not to order it. They are matters for discussion in the campaign that an election would precipitate . . . not in determining whether the Constitutional right to have an election shall be honored.

The single point of my appeal to you is the people's right to be the jury. Our governors for three administrations have promised to do all they could to assure an election. The people are resentful of the delay. I most respectfully call upon you not to withhold the right of election any longer.

After the address, on motion of Senator Pittman, the Joint Assembly dissolves, the Senate returns to its chambers and the House resumes consideration of business.

STATEMENT BY MEMBER

(R. L. Harris)

Mr. Speaker:

I desire to make a very brief and very simple statement in defense of the Members of the 1949 General Assembly.

This is Good Friday. Throughout all Christendom, reverent and devout and sincere people are today recognizing the anniversary of the greatest tragedy in recorded history. It is not, however, a day of desolation because we can remember that very early in the morning on the third day, the Man of Galilee rose again to bring hope, for all time, to a troubled world.

It would be especially unbecoming on this day to say an unkind word. In all my experience in the General Assembly, I have never impugned the motives of any member, or any citizen, of this great commonwealth of ours. I do not intend to start now. But when in later years I come to look back on the 1949 Session, I think I shall always remember two things. I know I shall always regret with great sorrow the editorial in the local paper on Thursday morning. I shall also regret that I took the time and the trouble to read it.

At this moment, I have neither anger nor resentment in my heart. I very sincerely regret that it was deemed wise that such an article should come from the pen, or from the editorial office, of a man who has recently been highly honored by my Party.

Early in January, every member of this Assembly took the same oath to the same God. According to their best judgment and ability, they have lived up to the obligation in this oath. That they have differed is simply democracy in action.

In all kindness and in all charity, it should be remembered that this Assembly has dealt and is dealing with some of the greatest problems that have ever faced a General Assembly, and which transcend in many respects any earlier legislative responsibilities.

In making reference to this General Assembly, I deny that any editor or any person has the right to bring a blanket indictment in which they are charged with being "contemptible." This is said without malice and in full charity and in the consolation that, when any editor or any person so exaggerates the true picture, the healing hand of time will place such a word as "contemptible" in its true and absurd light, and that the very term so used will take on a different meaning and will become a tribute to the integrity and the courage of those who now sit in this General Assembly. For this reason, that is, knowing that history will in time answer the charge here unfairly made, I do not deem it necessary to ask for any retraction.

Mr. Speaker, we are now vexed by many problems yet unsolved. Therefore, at times we are troubled and heavy of heart. But I would like to remind the House as I did in the beginning of these remarks, that after Good Friday comes Easter.

On motion of Mr. Harris and by unanimous consent of the House, the statement is ordered spread on the Journal.

Mr. Speaker Ramsay requests that he be recorded as concurring in the motion.

STATEMENT

The following statement is read and upon motion of Mr. Royster, seconded by Mr. Harris, is by unanimous vote, ordered spread on the Journal:

The amendment relating to "Contingent Teacher Raises" had its inception in and came directly from the Governor's office to the Senate. Immediately upon the adjournment of Monday evening's session of the Senate, a few minutes after the Appropriations Bill without the amendment had passed its second reading, a representative from the Governor's office approached the President of the Senate with the suggestion that the plan for the establishment of the 2200-3100 dollar teacher pay scale, contingent upon sufficient revenues being available to meet the same during the coming biennium, would please the Governor and settle the entire controversy. The President of the Senate arranged for this information to be immediately transmitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Chairmen of the Appropriations Committees of the House and Senate, and two or three other leaders in the General Assembly. The proposed plan was thoroughly discussed and a conclusion was reached around midnight Monday evening whereby the wishes of the Governor might be complied with. The representative of the Governor was contacted at that late hour and requested to arrange for a conference with the Governor at ten o'clock the next morning to conclude the details of the proposal that had come from the Governor's office. This proposed conference was satisfactory to the representative. However, at eight o'clock the next morning the representative of the Governor called and stated that the Governor had been contacted and it was found that he would necessarily have to leave Raleigh at 9:45 to meet an engagement at Goldsboro. The representative of the Governor was then advised that the hour of the conference might be moved forward to nine o'clock in order to meet the Governor's convenience. The hour of the conference was actually set at 9:15, at which time the undersigned met with the Governor and his representative in his office.

Upon arriving at the Governor's office at the appointed time and after the usual greetings, the President of the Senate suggested that the representative of the Governor, by whom the conference had been arranged, take charge as spokesman of the meeting. He thereupon outlined his ideas of the proposed amendment which were discussed in detail and it was our understanding that the Governor and all persons present were in agreement that an amendment would be prepared along the lines suggested and offered in the Senate. It was further suggested by the representative of the Governor that a joint statement be prepared and signed by the Governor and President of the Senate (the Lieutenant Governor), advising that this course be pursued. The representative of the Governor wrote a pencil memorandum containing the substance of the statement which he thought would be proper for them to sign under the circumstances. The Governor had to leave and go to Goldsboro and the meeting was adjourned, with the understanding that the representative of the Governor and the Chairmen of the Appropriations Committees would prepare an amendment in accordance with the agreement, which amendment was to be offered in the Senate on the third reading of the bill. The representative of the Governor and the Chairmen of the Appropriations Committees went immediately to the office of Mr. R. G. Deyton, Assistant Director of the Budget, where an amendment was prepared containing the substance of the understanding referred to in the Governor's office. This amendment, after it was prepared and typed, was approved by the representative of the Governor, who had been present and taken part in all the negotiations above referred to. This amendment, as approved, and as passed by the Senate, was in accordance with the proposal made and discussed in the Governor's office just prior to the time he left for Goldsboro, as understood by all of us. We regret very much that there is a misunderstanding about this important matter.

Signed:

H. P. Taylor, President of the Senate
Edwin Pate

Kerr Craige Ramsay, Speaker of the House
W. F. Taylor
